Growing township enterprise for greater inclusion in the formal economy

Including all work age South Africans in the economy of the country is imperative if we are to break the cycle of poverty, inequality and unemployment. South Africa's townships thrive in spite of all of these, with many informal enterprises providing innovative business solutions to very local challenges.

Formalising the township economy will help it grow. It will assist businesses to access financial and non-financial support programmes that will contribute towards their expansion which in turn leads to more employment opportunities for other members of the community.

Join Proudly South African as we look at the township economy and ways in which we assist it to grow including through increased localisation measures.
